

What is involved in your clinic consultation?

A new patient consultation takes 60 minutes and a follow-up consultation takes 30 minutes.

New Clinic Consultation

You will discuss your symptoms and clinical concerns with Dr Fernandez. Your pre-clinical questionnaire is very important, as this also gives a preliminary idea of your clinical expectations, and aim to provide Dr Fernandez with your background medical history, medication list (if any) and any other relevant information.

You will have a comprehensive neurological examination at your clinic consultation.

At the end of the clinic, you will have an opportunity to discuss your diagnosis, plan of management and any other concerns you might have.

The discussion on plan of management will also include discussions on any relevant investigations and necessary treatment options; which are relevant to each patient.

Dr Fernandez also dictates your clinic letter at the end of this consultation session, to your GP. You will have a copy of this dictated letter.

All of the above takes time, and your pre-clinical questionnaire is therefore, very helpful.
